In the next place, it is evident from the genethat the French people are utterly averse to a the Chamber ought to do. - The Chamber is war with the United States. But further than called upon to come to an immediate deci this, a report that Mr. Livingston was breaking up his establishment at the Hotel of the American Embassy, preparatory to his departure from the French capital, is anthoritatively contradicted; and it is positively asserted, that, notwithstanding the notification in the Moniteur, the Americ n Minister had no intention of demanding his presports.

A third favourable symptom in the present ac counts, is a statement put forth in one of the Paris journals—The Tribune—that the French Government was at least not sorry at the op-portunity presented of recalling M. Serrurier, who has given much cause of dissatisfaction. It appears from the statement of the Tribune, government." that previous to the debates in the Chamber on the twenty-five millions, he wrote to the King, that the difference might be settled for twelve mil.:on francs; and it is believed that a copy of this despatch, being communicated to several influential Members of the Centre by the friends of M. Serrurier, contributed in no small degree to the rejection of the demand for the twenty. five million francs. From this moment the disgrace of the French Minister to the U. States was resolved on; but it could not be decided upon for fear of divulging the motives.' It is added, that after the final adjustment of the question, M. Serrurier will not return as Minister to the United States. A circumstance has trans-ed immediately to Fort King in Alabama, pired in this city this morning, which corroboto detach four companies from that post, to understand they are to embark for St. Au. rates this statement. Thus the manices of President Jackson will have attained their object.

The French government, which declared that importance should be attached to A-is itself general partner, or partners, with the usual hurried to precipitate this discussion, in the fear, lance of guin, and without personal liability, without doubt, that the address of Congress in approving the language of the President, will be the feeble protext in which the weakness of our men of the 7th of Augus has found reinge.

It is hoped that when the address will be known in France, the no cessary sums will be voted, and that the injury done to the national honour will not be irrepediable. We know not whether the Chamber will associate itself with this combination, or wait er it votes upon a law, to ascertain whether the adts arrival in this city was very great; our dress of the American Senate may approve or ts arrival in this city was very great; our disavow the insulting language of President street in front, notwithstanding the drizzling Jackson. Wity, then, not wait ere they vote the sums by which this question will be decided, and until they know whether the millions demanded will go to pay an insult, or to discharge a debt, presented in due season by a friendly nation. We may see that the pre-text advanced by the Minister, furnishes a very plausible motive to adjourn a vote, which they let 85, after certain dates, was passed—Yeas 25, Nocs 2.

The National inquires, why was the French Ambassador recalled from the United States, if the President's message was an individual act for which the American nation or its representatives are not answerable? Our Ambassador was not sent merely to General Jackson, but to Armal of a French Brig of War—resident was not sent merely to General Jackson, but to Minister at Washington, M. Serurrier, not in the whole of the American powers. The meagood odour with the French Government—presures of Government have been suggested by sordid and private circulations, the consequences ties and determination of Mr. Livingston not to of which ought to fall upon their promoters; for this purpose, an impeachment of Ministers is The New York Commercial of Saurday af not necessary to reject the bill of 25 millions.
